

DO YOU HAVE PSORIASIS IN YOUR SCALP?

Scalp Psoriasis is characterized by a presence of raised, thickened red lesions that are covered by silvery white scale.

If you have Scalp psoriasis, you may be interested in a clinical research study of an investigational topical medication.

We are looking for healthy men and women 18 years and up with scalp psoriasis to participate in a clinical research study. This is a 28-day study with up to four study visits. All study related procedures and lab work at no cost, compensation given to qualified participants.

If you or someone you know is interested, call us at 801-269-0135 to see if you qualify.
